² This type of contribution is counted towards your concessional contributions cap.

³ We're generally unable to accept a single member contribution, including:

- > a personal deducted contribution if you haven't completed sections 2, 5 and 8
- > a personal undeducted contribution, and
- > a spouse contribution.

if it exceeds the fund cap (three times the non-concessional contributions cap or the non-concessional contributions cap if you are 65 or over on 1 July of the financial year in which the contribution is made) or if you have not supplied us with your TFN.

⁴ This type of contribution is counted towards your non-concessional contributions cap.

Note: If you're making a personal deducted contribution and wish to provide a valid Personal Tax Deduction Notice to confirm your intention to claim a tax deduction for this contribution, you must complete Sections 2, 5 and 8 of this form. You should also ensure you complete all other applicable sections. If you have not previously supplied your TFN to us, please complete Section 6.

This contribution is by (cross [X] box):

Note: Attach cheque and documentation.

5. MAKING A PERSONAL DEDUCTED CONTRIBUTION?

Complete this section if you are making a personal deducted contribution at Section 4 and wish to provide a valid Personal Tax Deduction Notice at this time.

If you don't complete this section you can provide a separate Personal Tax Deduction Notice at a later time, subject to tax law restrictions.

My personal contribution covered by this notice is the amount shown as a personal deducted contribution in Section 4. I intend to claim this amount as a tax deduction under Subdivision 290-C of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997.

6. TAX FILE NUMBER

Tax file number

Under the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993, your superannuation fund is authorised to collect your TFN, which will only be used for lawful purposes. These purposes may change in the future as a result of legislative change. The trustee of your superannuation fund may disclose your TFN to another superannuation provider, when your benefits are being transferred, unless you request the trustee of your superannuation fund in writing that your TFN not be disclosed to any other superannuation provider.

It's not an offence to not quote your TFN. However giving your TFN to your superannuation fund will have the following advantages (which may not otherwise apply):

- > your superannuation fund will be able to accept all types of contributions to your account(s)
- > the tax on contributions to your superannuation account(s) will not increase
- > other than the tax that may ordinarily apply, no additional tax will be deducted when you start drawing down your superannuation benefits, and
- > it will make it much easier to trace different superannuation accounts in your name so that you receive all your superannuation benefits when you retire.

Definitions

All contributions are preserved.

‘Employer Contributions’ are contributions made by the employer which are more than the minimum Superannuation Guarantee Contributions. (See below)

‘Personal Deducted Contributions’ are contributions made by employees that will be claimed as a tax deduction. Most employees don’t qualify to claim a tax deduction for their own contributions as they must get 90% of their income from self-employment.

‘Personal Undeducted Contributions’ are contributions made by employees, and won’t be claimed as a tax deduction by the employees.

‘Salary Sacrifice Contributions’ are contributions made by the employer from an employee’s pre-tax salary. The employee sacrifices part of their salary and their employer pays an equivalent amount as a superannuation contribution. Although this type of contribution is considered to be an employer contribution, it belongs to the employee.

‘Superannuation Guarantee Contributions’ are the minimum contributions payable by employers. For the latest superannuation guarantee rate, please refer to the www.ato.gov.au. A Productivity or Award superannuation contribution paid under an Industrial Award or Agreement is also classified as this type of contribution.

‘Spouse Undeducted Contributions’ are contributions made by a legally married or defacto spouse living with the member on a genuine domestic basis.

These contributions won’t be claimed as a tax deduction by the member or the spouse making the contribution.

‘Preserved Benefits’ can be paid in cash if a person:

- > resigns or retires after reaching their preservation age (see table) and does not intend ever again to work more than 10 hours per week
- > resigns or retires after turning 60
- > reaches age 65
- > dies or is permanently incapacitated
- > experiences severe financial hardship
- > has compassionate grounds
- > is an eligible temporary resident who is leaving Australia permanently
- > leaves an employer who has made contributions.

Date you were born	Preservation age
Before 1 July 1960	55
1 July 1960 – 30 June 1961	56
1 July 1961 – 30 June 1962	57
1 July 1962 – 30 June 1963	58
1 July 1963 – 30 June 1964	59
After 30 June 1964	60

* From 1 April 2009 not available to current or former holders of temporary visas unless they are permanent residents, or citizens of Australia or New Zealand.
